Stack floating panels

When you drag a panel out of its dock but not into a drop zone, the panel floats freely. The floating panel allows you to position it anywhere in the workspace. You can stack floating panels or panel groups so that they move as a unit when you drag the topmost title bar.

Question: 2

Your document contains several spot colors. You want to print the spot colors as part of the process-color plates rather than on a separate plate. You are in the Output mode of the Print dialog box what should do?

- A. Change the Mode to Separations (Host-Based).
- B. Click the printer icon next to the spot colors in the Document Ink Options list.
- C. Select Convert All Spot Colors to Process.
- D. Click the spot color icon next to the spot Color in the document Ink Options list.

Set options for the color plates you want to separate:

To disable printing of a color plate, click the printer icon  next to the color in the Document Ink Options list. Click again to restore printing for the color.

To convert all spot colors to process colors, so that they are printed as part of the process-color plates rather than on a separate plate, select Convert All Spot Colors To Process.

To convert an individual spot color to process colors, click the spot color icon  next to the color in the Document Ink Options list. A four-color process icon  appears. Click again to revert the color back to a spot color.

To overprint all black ink, select Overprint Black.
